HONGKONG, TUZEDAY, JULY 8, 1890.

THE telegram we publish to-day about the extension of French power in M gascar is a good illustration of the imperfect service of telegrams we receive from Reuter's agency. Apparently, as an ad- defective, yet the amendment of the ordinjunct to the Anglo-German convention, some arrangement has been made with France, whereby, in view of certain concessions, consent has been given to further extension of the power of that country in Madeguscar. We have been told nothing about this arrangement. We can only infer its existence from the annoncement that petitions against it are being signed by members of Parliament The British steamer Nameng reports: By the treaty of 1885, France assumed a hominal protectorate over the island of Madagascar. A French Resident General, with a military escort, resides at the capital, and he claims control of the foreign relations of the country. The Hoves, however, do not submit to much dictation They claim that the right of intermedding in foreign affairs is conditional, and no interference has hitherto been allowed in members of the House of Commons against mercy of the officials.

the administration of internal affairs or in the African Agreement, in which the memobusiness of a commercial nature with foreign rialists regret the proposed extension o individuals or companies. Mining and other French powers in Madagascar. concessions have been granted by the Hoves Government to English companies, and there is a good deal of British capital invested in the country. Before the recent French activity British influence was paramount. The leaders of our missionary societies were the trusted advisers of the Queen, and in the central districts where the influence of the central Government is effective the majority of the population are Protestants. Without knowing the quid pro que given by France it is of course impossible to say how far the memorialists who object to the extension of her power are justified in the position they take up.

Ir proof were wanted of the svils of secret discussion, it is to be found in the confessions made in Council yesterday by the members of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Water-works Bill. When were appointed we expressed the opinion that, in view of the great importance to the public of the subject remitted to them, the meetings ought to be held in public. However, the Com-In ordering it is only necessary to mittee thought otherwise. They discussed the matter in private, and now they are at sixes and sevens as to what actually took place at their meetings and as to the understanding arrived at with regard to the very important question-who is to be the Case. Per Bot. Water Authority. We are told that there was a very full discussion, that cogent arguments were adduced on one side and on the other, that Mr Chadwick fully axplained the position of affairs, and that the Com-14 1.25 mittee in defining the Water Anthority were to a great extent guided by the powerful arguments he gave. But beyond these generalities nothing is known, the members of the Committee having only a hazy recollection of what took place. Mr Mac-Ewen and Dr. Ho Kai, who supported the Sanitary Board, were under the impression The D. D. R. s. s. Kriemhild left Singapore that there was a definite understanding that when the Water works were completed the 1.00 Authority should be transferred to the Board. The officials, on the other hand, 1.10 who naturally do not view with favour the. giving to a semi-representative body authority over any Government Department, were 1.25 of opinion that no undertaking was given. Per Case. Per Case. Had the discussion taken place in public Quarts. Pints, there would have been no risk of such a misunderstanding; and if Mr MacEwen has been put off with plausible words in-4.50 5.00 stead of definite promises, he has himself 7.50 to blame, for he should have insisted. the discussion of such an important subject Case. Per Bot. being publicly conducted. We have no doubt Mr Chadwick said that he was favour of the Sanitary Board assuming the authority after the completion of the works;

for those who have been advocating the claims of that body if that statement had been directly reported instead of coming in directly as another member's impressions of what took place. Taking the Bill as it has been amended, there may not be much objection to allowing the Resident Engineer to remain the Water Authority while the works are under construction. One very important change 8 0.75 has been made. The power of making bylaws has been taken from him and entrusted to the Governor in Council. The rules . . . 10 1.00 or by laws made under an ordinance are often as important as the ordinance itself, 12 1.10 and the need for discussion and publicity as great in the one case as in the other. The 8 0.75 extract from the Law Times we gave yesterday shows that the subject of by-law framing is attracting considerable attention at Home and that there is a general desire for greater publicity and fuller discussion Here publicity is even more necessary than at Home ; and it would have been better, failing a clause to that effect in the ordinance, if some undertaking had been given that the regulations to be made would 5,25 0.50 | be submitted to the Sanitary Board and its opinion requested thereon. We hope that 12 1.00 some such course will actually be taken, for it is highly desirable that these regulations should be thoroughly scrutinised before Heering's Cherry Cordial being enforced. There still remains one Dr. Siegert's Angostura atrong objection to the definition of the Water Authority. The power being given to the Resident Engineer by ordinance i will be very difficult to take it from him. Extensions of the distributary system will doubtless be made from time to time, and it will not be an easy matter to define when the constructive work is definitely finished. The present opportunity having been allowed to slip, the Sanitary Board will find it very difficult to assert its claims on a future occasion. It has for a long time been r nised that the constitution of the Board, as defined by the Health Ordinance, is very ance in the direction of widening the Board's sphere of influence has been indefinitely postponed; and as the officials here have managed in the past to stave off the claims for increased municipal rights, so they will do their utinost to keep the Water Authority and all other authority within

THE Shanghai Mercury says :- We are sorry to hear that reliable information has been received here by a native gentleman interested in the proposed railway from Canton to Kowloon, to the effect that the scheme has collapsed. It would seem that the native capitalists wanted the Chinese Anthorities to get a certain amount of foreign money invested in the enterprise, after which they would come forward with whatever further pecuniary assistance was required, but the Provincial Government would not consent to this, and the scheme like so many of its predecessors has died a natural death. We may inform our contemporary that the scheme is by no means dead. In fact it never had more life than it seems to have at the present moment. At the same time, it may be well to remind those who are disposed to be sety as beginne. that there may be many aline between the trip of the surveying party that left Taikok-tent the other day, and the opening of the railway. The Vicerop is very favourably disposed, but there is some reason to fear that he is prompted more by a desire to get some money than by an ardent wish to introduce Western improvements. And there may be some truth about the healtancy of Chinese capitalists to embayk on a scheme in which they have little direct A memorial is being signed by many foreign support and are entirely at the

THE CHINA REVIEW. PUBLISHED BI-MONTHLY.

THIS Review, which was intended to mast

the wants of many students of Chinese caused by the discontinuance of Notes and Queries on China and Japan, has reached its Eighteenth Volume. The Review discusses those topics which are uppermost in the minds of students of the Far Last and about which every intelligent person connected with China or Japan is desirous of acquiring trustworthy information. It includes many interesting Notes and original Papers on the Arts, Sciences, Ethnology, Folklore, Geography, History, Literature, Mythology, Natural History, Antiquities, and Social Manners and Customs, etc., etc., of China, Japan, Mongolia, Tibet, and the Far East generally. Recently a new daparture has been taken, and the Review now gives papers on Trade, Commerce, and Descriptive notes of Travel by well-known writers. It was thought that by extending the scope of the Review in this direction,

The Review department receives special attention, and endeavours are made to present a careful and concise record of Literature on China etc., and to give oritiques embodying sketches of the Most recent works on such topies. Authors and Publishers are requested to forward works to Editor, China Review, cire of China Mail Office.

Original contributions in Chinese, Latin, or any of the Modern Languages are received. The papers are contributed by the members of the various Consular, the Imperial Customs, and Hongkong Services, and also by the Missionary bodies amongst whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is assidnously cultivated. Amongst the regular contributors are Drs. Chalmers, Eitel, Bretschneider, and Hirth, Professor Legge, and Messrs Balfour, Watters, Stent, Phillips, MacIntyre, Groot, Jamieson, Faber, Kopsch, Parker, Playfair, Giles, Piton, and Taylor, -all well-known names, indicative of sound scholarship and thorough mastery of their subject. The Subscription is fixed at $6.50 per annum, postage included - payable in ad-Orders for binding volumes will be promptly attended to; Address, 'Mana-

The China Review for September-October fully maintains the high standard of excellence which characterises that publiation, and altogether forms a very interesting and readable number. Moteorologists will find an interesting and valuable contribution by Dr. Fritsche, on "the Amount of Precipitation (Rain and Snow) of Peking," showing the results of observations made at the Imperial Russian Observatory at Peking, from 1841 to 1880. "Notes on the Dutch Occupation of Formosa," by Mr. Geo. Phillips, contains some interesting information, although much of it is second-hand. all students of China and the Chinese would do well to patronise. - Chrysanthemum. 'The November-December number of the China Review contains less variety than usual, but the few articles are very interesting. The opening paper by Mr Herbert 1582 A. Gilos on "The New Testament in Chiness" treats of a question that must necessarily be of great importance in the eyes of all missionaries. Mr E. H. Parker's "Short Journeys in Ezechuon" are continued, and a goodly instalment of these travels in the interior of China is given. Mr F. H. Balfour contributes a paper of some length entitled "The Emperor Cheng, founder of the Chinese Empire," which will be read with genuine interest by students of Chinase history. A few short notices of New Books and a number of Notes and Queries, one of which "On Chinese Oaths in Western Lorneo and Java" might appropriately have been placed under a separate heading, complete the number. -H.K. Daily Press.

Trubner's Oriental Record contains the following notice of the China Review: The present publication, judging by the number now before us, is intended to occupy a position, as regards China and the neighbouring countries, some what similar to that which has been filled in India by the Calcutta Review. The great degree of attention that has been bestowed of late years upon the investigation of Chinese literature, antiquities, and social developments, to say nothing of linguistic studies, has led to the accumulation of important stores of information, rendering some such channel of publicity as is now provided extremely desirable; and contributions of much interest may fairly be looked or from the members of the foreign consular services, the Chinese Oustoms' corps, and the missionary body. among whom a high degree of Chinese scholarship is now assidnously cultivated, and who are severally represented in the first number of the Review by papers highly creditable to their respective authors Some translations from Chinese novels and plays are marked by both accuracy and froshness of style; and an account of the career of the Chinese poet-statesman of the eleventh contury, Su Tong-p'o, by Mr. E. O. Bowra, 0.25 is not only historically valuable, but is also distinguished by its literary grace. Beside notices of new books relating to China and the East, which will be a useful feature of the Review, if carried out with punctuality and detail, we are glad to notice that 'Notes' and 'Queries' are destined to o.m. the day previous to sailing. Parcel 13 new 3MADES AND PATTERIS. find a place in its pages also. It is to be hoped that this opening for contributions on Ohlnese subjects may evoke a similar degree of literary real to that which was displayed during the biotime of its prodecomor in the field, and that the China Review
